An afternoon paper says a boycott has already been declared by the general executive board Knigh's of Labor. Said Barry at noon today, it begins on Armour's meats and other products. How far we shall extend it to other packers, I cannot say yet.

A large number of men applied for work at the packing houses this morning and at the packing houses this morning, and about five thousand men are at work.

Nelson Morris received a dispatch from the east saying that some oue down there, whose name he would not give, will send him 3,000 skilled butchers. About twothirds of the men at work in the yards are new hands. Militia guards were out as usual and all approaches to the yards are ined with pickets.

There was a collission tonight near the Ashland avenue bridge between a crowd of strikers and a small squad of infantrymen. The bridge was guarded by twelve men from the Second infantry under Lieutenant Millian, the batillion of the company being stationed in the vicinity of the neighboring packing house. The crowd of strikers and sympathizers numbered about 500 and was determined to prevent the packing house employes from crossing the bridge on their way back to

Of More Importance.

New Yore, Nov. 10.—The Evenivg Post says: While great prominence has been given by the press throughout the country to the labor troubles in Chicago, comparatively little attention has been paid by the public at large to the strike now going on in this state, which involves as many people and as much capital, and a principal of vital importance. This is the contest in progress between the knit goods manufacturers and the Knights of Labor, which has now become an open war upon the latter as an organization. Though the most conspicuous facts in the warfare have been noted from time to time, but few persons have a clear idea of the mature of the controversy, or realize that nearly 20,-600 men, women and children were em-ployed in the kult goods mills throughout New York state, which the owners have closed against all Knights of Labor. A long interview with one acquainted with the history of the fight, then follows in substance: persons have a clear idea of the nature of
